2. SUPREME AND EXCHEQUER COURTS OF CANADA.

CHAPTER 87.

The Dominion Courts Act.

1. The Supreme Court of Canada, and the Exchequer Court of Canada, or the Supreme Court of Canada alone, according to the provisions of the Acts of the Parliament of Canada, known as The Supreme Court Act and The Exchequer Court Act, shall have jurisdiction in cases of,—

- (a) controversies between the Dominion of Canada and Ontario; Jurisdiction of courts.
R.S.C. cc. 139, 140.
Controversies between Canada and Ontario.
- (b) controversies between any other Province of the Dominion which may have passed an Act similar to this Act and Ontario; - Controversies between Ontario and certain other Provinces.
- (c) actions, or proceedings, in which the parties thereto by their pleadings have raised the question of the validity of an Act of the Parliament of Canada, or of an Act of the Legislature of Ontario, when in the opinion of a judge of the court in which the same are pending such question is material, and in such case the judge shall, at the request of the parties, and may without such request, if he thinks fit, order the case to be removed to the Supreme Court of Canada, in order to the decision of such question. R.S.O. 1914, c. 55, s. 2. Cases involving the validity of Acts of Canada or Ontario.

2. In case sittings of any court of the Dominion of Canada, or of any judge thereof, are appointed to be held in any city, town, or place in which a court house is situate, such court or judge shall have, in all respects, the same authority as a judge of the Supreme Court in regard to the use of the court house and other buildings or apartments set apart in the county for the administration of justice. R.S.O. 1914, c. 55, s. 4. Authority of judges of Dominion courts as to use of court house, etc.
