This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Alumni Publications at Osgoode Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Report on Giving by an authorized administrator of Osgoode Digital Commons.
This report lists all donors who gave at least $100 to Osgoode Hall Law School from May 1, 2003 to April 30, 2004. Those donors who have requested anonymity do not appear in the listings. While we have made every effort to ensure accuracy, please let us know of any errors or omissions by calling the Office of Advancement, Osgoode Hall Law School.
At the 2004 Osgoode Hall Law School convocation The Honourable Peter Cory, in his role as the 11th Chancellor of York University, addressed the graduating students. He told them that good lawyers share four important qualities: courage, industry, patience and perseverance. A lawyer needs courage to undertake unpopular causes and clients; industry to perform the required hours of preparation and fact checking; patience to understand excited clients and witnesses; and perseverance to achieve a fair and just result. These were heartfelt words from a man who truly understands the important role that individuals play in Canada’s justice system.

It made me think of my own graduation from Osgoode. My classmates and I were grateful to our families who provided encouragement and support throughout our three years of study. We recognized the important role of the faculty who instructed us on the complexities of the law. And, of course, we were appreciative of the lifelong friendships we had formed. Students who graduate from Osgoode today also acknowledge a fourth group – our donors. The alumni, friends and law firms listed in this Report on Giving have, without doubt, influenced the success of our graduates. Through the generous support of our donors we are able to assist students in financial need, reward outstanding academic achievement and renovate our teaching space. In short, we are able to provide our students with opportunities they could never have otherwise had.

I would like to thank the donors listed in this report. Your philanthropy has made a difference. It has allowed us to educate the next generation of lawyers who will, like the graduates who went before them, serve the justice system and society.

The William Osgoode Society has been established to honour the Law School’s most generous donors. Named after the first Chief Justice of Upper Canada, the Society reflects the School’s long history and important influence on legal education. Members in the Society include individuals, law firms, foundations, and associations whose cumulative paid gifts total more than $25,000. Members who have given more than $100,000 will also be recognized in the York University Honour Court.

Chair's Message

The Osgoode Hall Law School Fund symbolizes the ardent belief of our alumni, friends, faculty and staff in the Law School. In the four short years since its inception, the Fund has grown 346 per cent. This is truly inspiring. It demonstrates that there is dedicated support for the Law School and the role it plays in legal education and scholarship.

It should also be noted that this year, in addition to direct contributions to the Law School, we were able to benefit from the Ontario government’s matching program, the Ontario Student Opportunity Trust Fund. The government has provided Osgoode with $585,981 to match donations made to endowed student bursaries. The Law School’s endowment has therefore grown by more than $1 million in just one year!

I have always been proud to be an alumnus of Osgoode Hall Law School. It has an illustrious roster of alumni and a distinguished history that is without equal among Canada’s law schools. I am also enthusiastic about its future. There is an energy and drive to create new opportunities and prepare Osgoode for the road ahead nationally and internationally. Osgoode will continue as a leader and innovator in part because of the supporters listed in this report. As Chair of the Osgoode Hall Law School Fund, I thank you for your commitment and generosity.

Osgoode Hall Law School is one of this country’s finest law schools as a result of the vision, wisdom and resolve of those charged with its leadership. Our gift societies are named in honour of five of the first deans for their contribution to building an institution that is internationally recognized for its excellence in legal education.

The Honourable Ronald E. Sobier Entrance Award

Polly Ann Sobier had planned to leave a gift in her will to Osgoode Hall Law School in honour of her late husband, the Honourable Ronald E. Sobier, but then she had another idea. “I thought to myself why am I waiting until I die?” Mrs. Sobier recalled. “I’d rather make a gift now while I’m alive.”

That is how The Honourable Ronald E. Sobier Entrance Award, which will be awarded annually to an entering student who has excellent academic standing, a record of community or extracurricular involvement and demonstrated financial need, came to be established.

When Mrs. Sobier’s generous gift is matched by the Ontario government’s Ontario Student Opportunity Trust Fund (OSOTF) and York University, a deserving entering student will receive a $9,000 award to help defray the cost of first-year tuition.

Mrs. Sobier’s remarkable gift is a legacy to her husband of 22 years who died seven years ago. “I wanted to do something lasting in Ron’s memory to celebrate his life and work.”

A respected lawyer and jurist as well as a kind and generous man with a zest for life, Justice Sobier was the only child of a Polish immigrant and his first-generation Canadian wife. He did not learn to speak English until he went to school, and his father was determined that he should make a mark in the world.

After graduating from Osgoode in 1961, Justice Sobier joined the law firm of McCarthy and McCarthy (later McCarthy Tétrault LLP) and was made a partner in 1971. He became a Queen’s Counsel in 1975 and married Polly Ann a year later. He was appointed to the Ottawa-based Tax Court of Canada in 1990 where he served until his death in 1998 of a suspected heart attack at the age of 60. He was also a director of Family Day-Care Services, vice-chairman of Diabetes Canada, a fund raiser with Queen Elizabeth Hospital, past-president of the Albany Club in Toronto, and he spent 11 years on the Election Finances Commission of Ontario.

“Ron always felt a lawyer should be someone who is well-rounded and involved in the community,” said Mrs. Sobier, adding “he would have been happy” with his entrance award.

The Art Vertlieb, Q. C. Award

Vancouver lawyer Art Vertlieb, Q.C. has never shied away from making a commitment – except when he was deciding on a career. His mother wanted him to be a doctor, and so to please her he enrolled in pre-med at the University of Arizona. But on the first day of orientation when he heard the dean speak about the curriculum, Vertlieb became so bored he left the session an hour later declaring, “I want to go into law.”

Vertlieb went on to obtain a Bachelor of Science and Business Administration from the University of Arizona in 1969 (the Canadian equivalent of a Bachelor of Commerce) and then an LLB from Osgoode in 1972. To this day, his love for the law and the legal profession – and for Osgoode – knows no bounds.

“Everything I am in life falls from the wonderful opportunity I had to get a legal education at Osgoode,” says Vertlieb who is one of the Law School’s most passionate alumni. He was the driving force behind a generous gift of $78,872 from the Class of 1972 three years ago, and has helped organize numerous class reunions and other Law School events in British Columbia. In addition, he was involved with the Osgoode Centennial Campaign (1989 to 1994) that raised $6.9 million and was honoured in 2002 with an Alumni Gold Key Award for his outstanding contributions to the Law School.

Father of three sons and partner in Vertlieb Dosanjh, Vertlieb’s enthusiasm, keen mind, strong leadership skills and passionate commitment are evident in everything he does. “It’s important to do things that matter and not put yourself first all the time,” he says.

Vertlieb, who is a founding member of the Trial Lawyers Association of British Columbia as well as the Lawyers Assistance Program, which helps lawyers and their families struggling with addiction, has generously donated The Art Vertlieb, Q.C. Award to financially assist an Osgoode student from B.C. who has demonstrated leadership through extracurricular activities and has good academic standing.

The Honourable Madam Justice Moira Lenore Caswell Award

To say that the law played a significant role in the life of the Honourable Madam Justice Moira Caswell is an understatement. It was her passion, her vocation and her avocation. In a distinguished career as a lawyer and judge, Justice Caswell valued the law almost as much as she valued her family, friends and colleagues.

“She came from a long line of lawyers,” said her husband, Ralph Caswell, also a lawyer, noting that her father, two brothers, a sister and an uncle all studied law. “Most lawyers like the application of the law. Moira liked the law itself. She enjoyed reading and legal research and she was also interested in legal personalities such as Oliver Wendell Holmes.”

In an outpouring of generosity, The Honourable Madam Justice Moira Lenore Caswell Award was established to honour the memory of this engaging woman who was a passionate advocate for access to affordable and timely justice. The award will be given annually to second-year Osgoode students who have shown an interest in community service and who demonstrate financial need.

One of 14 women in her class, Justice Caswell graduated from Osgoode with an LLB in 1960 and was called to the Bar in 1962. At the time of her tragic death in a skiing accident in 2003, she had been a judge for 21 years, starting with the Provincial Court Civil Division in 1982 and moving to the Ontario Court Superior Division in 1992.

Prior to that, she practised commercial and real estate law for 20 years and also served as an instructor for the Law Society of Upper Canada, program co-chair for the Canadian Bar Association and as a fact-finder and mediator on the Ontario Education Relations Commission. In addition, she was heavily involved in community work, serving on the Boards of Women’s College Hospital, the St. Joseph’s Health Centre Foundation, Victoria Day Care Services, and York Montessori Schools.

“Moira’s greatest strength was her enthusiasm. She liked people,” says Ralph Caswell who met his future wife when they were students at Osgoode in the late 1950s. They married upon graduation and went on to have two children, Steise and Tom.

Thomas Brown Phillips Stewart (1865–1892) was a barrister and poet who died at the early age of 27. He left a portion of his estate to establish a student library at Osgoode Hall, which later became the largest law library in Canada.

The Thomas Brown Phillips Stewart Society was created to commemorate Thomas Brown Phillips Stewart as Osgoode's first benefactor and to honor all those who, like this generous young man, made Osgoode Hall Law School a part of their legacy through a planned gift.

Members:
William C. Busby
Anne and Charles Dubin
Balfour Halévy
Derek Hogg
L. MacDonald Killaly
William Turville

Membership in the Society is offered to those alumni and friends who wish to donate to Osgoode by means of a planned gift including charitable bequests, life insurance or other future arrangements. All members will be recognized annually in the Osgoode Hall Law School Report on Giving.

We would be pleased to discuss with donors and their advisors, the many areas within the Law School where bequests can be directed. We do appreciate the opportunity to review the terms of the Will (especially for specific bequests) before they are finalized, so we can confirm our ability to accept and fulfill the gift’s intent.
