"a point twenty-one and four-tenths feet due west astronomic from the point where the eighty-ninth meridian of west longitude intersects the southern shore of Hudson Bay, as the latter point was fixed by the Geodetic Survey of Canada in the year 1929".

2. This Act shall come into force on a day to be fixed by proclamation of the Governor in Council, but such proclamation shall not be issued until after the Legislature of Ontario has consented to any increase, diminution or alteration of the limits of the Province of Ontario provided for by this Act and the Legislature of Manitoba has consented to any increase, diminution or alteration of the limits of the Province of Manitoba provided for by this Act.

[This Act was proclaimed to be in force on July 1st, 1950. See Canada Gazette, Vol. LXXXIV, p. 2483.]
The Government of the United States, in order to facilitate the transportation of goods and people across its borders, has implemented a comprehensive network of customs and immigration checkpoints. These checkpoints are designed to ensure the security and integrity of the nation's borders while facilitating the smooth flow of commerce and travel. The first checkpoint is located at the border between the United States and Mexico, where extensive security measures are in place to prevent illegal entry and smuggling. The second checkpoint is located at the border between the United States and Canada, where similar security measures are in place to prevent illegal entry and smuggling. The third checkpoint is located at the border between the United States and the United Kingdom, where extensive security measures are in place to prevent illegal entry and smuggling. The fourth checkpoint is located at the border between the United States and Germany, where similar security measures are in place to prevent illegal entry and smuggling. The fifth checkpoint is located at the border between the United States and China, where extensive security measures are in place to prevent illegal entry and smuggling. The sixth checkpoint is located at the border between the United States and Japan, where similar security measures are in place to prevent illegal entry and smuggling.
